BOWDEN ALBERTA, CAN. THURSDAY, MAY 30th 1912

$1.00 PER YEAR

If I knew you and you knew me—
If both of us could clearly see,
And with an inner sight divine
The meaning of your heart and mine,
I'm sure that we would differ less
And clasp our hands in friendliness;
Our thoughts would pleasantly agree
If I knew you and you knew me.

We Lead

In Quality

THE KISS

A kiss is a peculiar proposition. Of no use to one, yet absolute bliss to two. The small boy gets it for nothing, the young man has to steal it and the old man has to buy it. The Baby's right, the lover's privilege, the hypocrite's mask. To a young girl, faith; to a married woman, hope; and to an old maid, charity.

One inch won't make you very tall,
You've got to keep on growing.
One step won't take you very far,
You've got to keep on walking.
One word won't tell folks who you are,
You've got to keep on talking.
One little "ad" won't do it all,
You've got to keep them going.

Local Jottings

A bouncing baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Morfit on Sunday, May 26th. The News and its many readers wish Mr. and Mrs. Morfit many happy returns of the day.

We understand that at present, an eastern capitalist is looking around Alberta for locations for flax factories. This is a matter which might concern Bowden, and if taken up by the Board of Trade, might result in flax factory for our town. Bowden has the very best of soil that is in the province of Alberta, and is no doubt, but what we could grow flax to a very large extent at this point. Having a land of good soil, not only could we have one industry in our town, but many others, if our citizen's get busy. All that our town needs is a starter, then we are sure to go ahead by leaps and bounds.

HAVE YOU A SKIN RASH?

Zam-Buk Will End It.

For skin rashes, eruptions, eczema, etc., either in adults or children, there is nothing known to science which equals Zam-Buk in the quickness and certainty of its curative power. Mr. Raymond Webber, of Allandburg, Ont., writes: "I have tried Zam-Buk for many ailments, and every time have found it successful. Some time ago I had a bad rash all over my body. I tried home-made salves, herb salves, and various home-made preparations, and these proved of no use, but when I tried Zam-Buk I was cured in a quarter of the time that I had been experimenting in vain with other preparations."

"On another occasion I had one of my fingers crushed, and in that case also Zam-Buk was the only remedy I used. It healed the wound splendidly."

"My boy had boils and once again Zam-Buk brought about a complete cure. We have also used it as a household liniment for the joints and skin diseases which are common to every person, and can say that in our experience there is nothing to equal Zam-Buk."

Zam-Buk owes its unique healing power to certain herbal extracts it contains. Unlike most ointments it contains no poisonous coloring matter, no animal fat, but is purely herbal. For eczema, piles, blood poison, abscesses, ulcers, cuts, burns and all skin injuries and diseases it is without equal and should be in every home. 50c box, all druggists and stores. Use also Zam-Buk Soap, 25c, tablet.

What the Paris Police Are Paid.

The Paris police who risked their lives in trying to arrest the members of the automobile bandit band are not overpaid.

The chief inspector, Colmard, receives $840 a year and has reached the highest rate in the service. Sergt. Fleury has $600 a year. After him comes Inspector Rohr, who arrested Carony, for which day's work he got $1.50.

Inspector Leroy has $1.34 a day and Inspector Sevetre and Huet, who after watching for seven consecutive nights, arrested Raymond la Sciesce, do not receive quite $1.25 a day.

Inspector Naessens, who arrested one of the gang, Paul Doebel, gets the same amount.

It is true that pensions are paid after a certain length of service, but it is not surprising in view of the scale of the pay that good men in the Paris detective service should be attracted by private work.

A lady recently stopped at an east-end open-air butcher's stall and purchased a joint at threepence a pound. She returned shortly after and complained that it was saturated with naphtha from one of the butcher's lamps.

"S'welp me!" remarked the butcher. "You gels don't want much — not a bit! You've got a wing rib off a bullock what was bred by King George himself for threepence a pound, and now you ain't satisfied! You're askin' too much, mum. If you want your Sunday's joint flavored with heau-de-Cologne, you'll have to spring another 'a'penny!"

WOMAN SICK FOR YEARS

Wants Other Women to Know How She was Finally Restored to Health.

Hammond, Ont. — "I am passing through the Change of Life and for two years had hot flushes very bad, headaches, soreness in the back of head, was constipated, and had weak, nervous feelings. The doctor who attended me for a number of years did not help me, but I have been entirely relieved of the above symptoms by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Blood Purifier and Liver Pills, and give you permission to publish my testimonial." — Mrs. LOUIS BEAUCAGE, Sr., Hammond, Ont., Canada.

New Brunswick, Canada. — "I can highly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to any suffering woman. I have taken it for female weakness and painful menstruation and it cured me." — Mrs. DEVERE BARBOUR, Harvey Bank, New Brunswick, Canada.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., seem to prove this fact. Every suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Umbrellas and Parasols.

Fashions change in umbrellas as well as in clothes. We find on visiting the London Museum that George IV. used to carry a green silk umbrella fringed with gold, and about twice as large as the umbrella of today. Parasols, too, have diminished in size since they first came into use. Henri Estienne, writing in 1578, speaks of a parasol as capable generally of sheltering four persons from the sun. And when they diminished in circumference the material remained of the heaviest. Red velvet parasols, with heavy gold fringes, were carried by ladies of fashion in the days of Louis XIV. At that time it was possible, when crossing a bridge in Paris, to hire a parasol at one end and deposit it at the other, the charge for the accommodation being a sou.—London Chronicle.

That Was "Willie."

The late Bishop Wilfrid N. McVickar, of Rhoad Island, harbored a large soul in a body to match. He was a bachelor, whose sister kept house for him.

On one occasion he telephoned to his tailor that he wished to have a pair of trousers pressed, and the tailor sent a boy to his residence to get them.

The Bishop's sister admitted the messenger and called upstairs: "Willie, the boy has come for your trousers!"

When her brother appeared the youth's astonished gaze traversed the prelate's impressive "corporeity," then he murmured:

"Gee! Is that Willie?"

AN INVITATION TO SICKNESS

Thin, Watery Blood Leads to a Break-down in Health.

Thin, impure blood is an invitation to sickness. The blood is at work day and night to maintain the health and any lack of strength or purity in the blood is a weakness in the defense against disease. Anaemia is the doctor's name for lack of blood—watery blood. There may be an actual loss in the quantity of blood, or one or more of its constituents may be lacking. The surest symptom of anaemia is pallor. The trouble is particularly common among young girls between the ages of fourteen and eighteen, but is also found in women of all ages, and quite frequently attacks men. It is nearly always present and prevents recovery after grippe, fevers, malaria, and operations, and for this reason a tonic medicine is required in all these cases to enrich the blood, build up the nerves and restore health and strength. And there is no other tonic as good as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, as has been proved in thousands and thousands of cases, among them that of Miss Annie Turner, Marie Joseph Post Office, N. S., who says: "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been of inestimable benefit to me. I was so badly run down that I could hardly go about, was not able to help in the work about the house. As my health grew worse the trouble brought on some species of fit, and when these attacks would come on I would sometimes remain unconscious for half an hour. After many other medicines had failed to help me, my brother got me a supply of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I began taking these. In the course of a few weeks I felt much better, and after taking the Pills for a time longer I was again in the full enjoyment of good health. I feel that I cannot praise Dr. Williams' Pink Pills too highly and I recommend them to all weak girls."

You can get these Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Speaking Conscientiously.

Senator La Follette, during his recent visit to Philadelphia, said to a reporter apropos of a flagrant piece of hypocrisy:

"Why, the man's as bad as a Newport groom I heard of the other day."

"This groom stood beside his master while a veterinarian examined a costly cob. The veterinarian at the end of his examination pronounced the cob incurable and took leave. Then the master, sighing heavily, turned to the groom, and said:

"Well, James, what am I to do with the poor beast, now?"

"Conscientiously speakin', sir, the groom replied, 'I think you'd better part with him now to another gentleman, sir.'"

Ask for Minard's and take no other.

"When one hears of a drama without words," says a letter from St. Petersburg, "the mind naturally turns to the motion picture; but if the term is used in connection with the enterprise of H. Mardachanow the inference is wrong." "The theatre audiences have grown weary of dialogue," says Mardachanow, "and plays in which action, music and scenery can take its place must become popular." In order to demonstrate this theory the dramatic reformer has opened a playhouse for the production of wordless dramas in Moscow, where the first, entitled "Tears," will be produced this month. "The work is of a higher order than the pantomimes of former days," says the writer, "and although the actors may know no language except their own, the plays which they produce can readily be understood by anyone."

Powerful Plea.

A man in North Carolina who was saved from conviction for horse stealing by the powerful plea of his lawyer, after his acquittal by the jury, was asked by his lawyer:

"Honor bright, Bill, you did steal that horse, didn't you?"

"Now, look a-here, judge," was the reply, "I allers did think I stole that hoss, but since I hears your speech to that ere jury, I'll be doggoned if I ain't got my doubts about it."—National Monthly.

Didn't Make His.

A certain young man who prided himself on a fastidiousness that he mistook for wit met an eminent but sculptor at a studio supper.

"So, you're the chap," he said on being introduced, "that makes mud heads."

"Not all of them," the sculptor replied quietly.

"Why do you refuse me a kiss?"

"Kisses may convey germs," explained the girl.

"That doesn't scare me. Didn't I always lick your slate for you when we went to school?"—Washington Herald.

"I was always unlucky," he said with a weary sigh.

"What's the matter now, old man?" his friend asked.

"I've spent over $500 on having my boy taught to play the fiddle, and now his hair's all comin' out."

Nothing as Good for Asthma—Asthma remedies come and go, but every year the sales of the original Dr. J. D. Kellogg Asthma Remedy grow greater and greater. No further evidence could be asked of its remarkable merit. It relieves. It is always of the same unvarying quality which the sufferer from asthma learns to know. Do not suffer another attack, but get this splendid remedy today.

Not a Vacation.

"I met William Morgan Shuster at a dinner at the Savoy in London," said a Chicagoan.

Shuster was rather bitter about Russia. And no wonder, eh?

"Talking about Russia, he said he thought it a fine place to keep away from, 'although,' he added, 'I must confess that a great many fine, liberal-minded people have from time to time taken a 'bouting there.'"

Wright—Hello, old man! Been in Florida, haven't you?

Penman—Yes, for two months.

Wright—Do any writing while you were down there?

Penman—Yes, a lot of it.

Wright—What did you write?

Penman—Checks.—Yonkers Statesman.

Some Improvement.

"Jane got her new bonnet wet." "Did it ruin it?" "I should say not. It made it look more fashionably lopsided than before."—Detroit Free Press.

There is probably more trashy stuff sold in the baking powder line than in any other line. Most of it contains large quantities of alum. To avoid the use of this dangerous acid, see that all ingredients are plainly stated in English on the package. The words "No Alum" on the package or in an Ad. is not sufficient.

Parson Was a Bachelor.

"In your sermon this morning you spoke of a baby 'a new wave on the ocean of life.'"

"Quite so; a poetical figure." "Don't you think 'a fresh squall' would have hit the mark better?"—Boston Transcript.

THURSDAY, MAY 30th, 1912

Bowden's Holiday 24th of May

Our fourth Annual Victoria day Celebration held at Bowden on May 24th, under the auspices of the Bowden Brass Band, proved a day of pleasure and much enjoyment for the crowd of people who assembled at the park and Baseball grounds to the east end of our town limits.

The weather was fine and thus no hindrance of any kind was put in the way to stop our holiday making.

A lengthy programme of horse racing, athletic events, paseball, and tennis etc. were the main points in view for the day.

As early as seven o'clock in the morning throngs of people were to be seen coming into our village, and continuously until about one o'clock, when a crowd of one thousand and people had assembled at witness the various sports for the day.

BASEBALL GAME

The game which billed to be played between Mayton and Bowden did not come off, owing, no doubt, to several of the players of both teams being away, and which caused much disappointment among many of the sight seers

This fact being known only at the last few moments before the game was to be played, teams composed of Bowden and Nesbett got their heads together and in this way, a game was played between these two teams. A sum of $20.00
was given to the winning team.
The winners being Nesbett.
They, defeating Bowden by a score of 28 to 14. We might say that the best players of Bowen's team were away, otherwise there would have been a far different tale to tell than what we now give to view.

Following is the players of both teams:

Bowden—R. Teeling, J. Arnold,
H. McKim, Bowman, Ridgway,
Cornish, Payne, Rollins, and Ferriter.

Nesbett Stars—J. Thompson,
Lee Montney, E. Sannes, C. Johnston, Adams, Sannis, Bookless J.
Latimer and D. Latimer.

HORSE RACING AND ATH- LETIC EVENTS

The horse racing and athletic events were keenly contested in
by a large number of people present and proved very interesting to many.

Refreshments were served at the home of Mrs. Roulston near the grounds, by the Methodist Ladies Aid, and also by the Bowden Bras-Band under their stand. Selections of music were played by the Band on the grounds, and it was a pleasure and a rare treat to be able to hear the sweet strains of the Band once more.

Much credit is due to the Bands men for the way in which the sports were conducted, also in keeping down the spirit of roudness of many.

N. B. We have been unable to secure the winners of the horse racing and athletic events, but the same will be published in our next issue (Ed.)

Roads Interest Canadian Children

Hundreds of essays received by Secretary of Highway Association
Hard task for judges

New Westminster, B. C., May 22.—That the children throughout Canada are taking the keenest interest in the improvement of roads is evident from the number of essays received by P. W. Luce, Secretary of the Canadian Highway Association, in competition for the gold medal and their prize-offered by President W. J. Kerr, for essays on "What good roads mean to Canada." On the closing date of the competition four hundred and sixty-two essays had been received. These varied in length from one hundred and forty to sixteen hundred words. Some of the papers have all the ear marks of careful preparation and revision and the three judges who have been selected to adjudicate upon the merits of these documents
have a hard task before them.
Roughly speaking, it is probable that one-quarter of the papers will be thrown out on the first reading.

It is expected that it will require the entire time of the judges for at least two days to go through all the essays, and that the final selection will be a matter of considerable difficulty.

Edmonton, Nelson and Vancouver are the cities that have sent in the largest number of essays: nearly fifty having been received from the first-named town.
Almost every city and town in Canada is represented in the list of entrants. A gratifying feature of his competition has been the interest taken by the children of the maritime provinces, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island having sent in over twenty papers.

The report of the judges will be submitted to President Kerr on June 1, and will be made public three or four days later. The gold, silver gilt and silver medals,
offered for the three best papers,
will be engraved with the names of the winners.

It is Mr. Kerr's intention to present from fifty to one hundred souvenir pins to the children whose essays have reached a certain standard of merit, the selection of these being left in the hands of the judges.

"I am more than satisfied with the interest taken by the children in this competition," said President Kerr yesterday, in discussing the success that had attended this competition.

"I feel that if we have the children with us we will be able to make more rapid headway with our proposal to build a highway across Canada, because what the children want they generally get,
and if during the plastic period
the minds of the children are moulded to realize the advantage of "Good Roads," the result of this will be seen in later years,
and Canada as a whole will be benefited."

It was Edwin Jessop, and Harry, glancing at Lady Anne's face, saw that she frowned and grew paler at sight of him.

"Please sit down here, Mr. Worth," she said. "I want you to tell me the exact truth about an unlucky protégé of mine, the man whom they call Sammy."

"I will tell you anything you wish to know, Lady Anne," she went on, staring straight before her as she spoke. "A red-haired, hump-backed creature, with a disagreeable expression caused by a squint. The night you arrived he was roughly asking me for more money in a wood when you intervened, and I told you there was no harm in him."

"I remember perfectly," Harry said. "But I think you were wrong."

"What do you mean?" she asked, turning a startled face upon him.

"I have reason to suppose the man is at least a thief."

"Oh, I don't think so!" she returned with an air of relief. "He might take ribbons, or feathers, or even pence, if he had a chance. But he does not really understand the value of money. The reason I am troubling you about him is that Farmer Anning tells me he had not been near the place for two days or two nights and that the last time he caught sight of him was the day before yesterday, when you walked to Lyllyngton Court, and Sammy followed you. I don't know why. But he has a habit of following strangers."

"That accounts for his presence in the grounds," exclaimed Harry. "I was looking at the house late in the afternoon when a traveler I had accidentally met entered into conversation with me. Suddenly, he declared we were being followed; and, darting among the trees, he saw Sammy, whom he described to me."

"What happened then?" she asked anxiously.

"Nothing, as far as I knew at the time. I took a dislike against this traveler and avoided him. But the next day, when I visited Lyllyngton fish ponds, the fellow drove up in a trap from the village, where he had passed the night, and insisted upon getting out and telling me of an adventure he had had with this same Sammy."

"Go on."

"The man declared that at the inn at Lyllyngton where he stopped, he discovered a red-headed, squinting fellow, who seemed half-witted, hidden behind some dresses in a cupboard of the bedroom in which he was to sleep."

"It is impossible!"

"It would sound so. But he went on to say that he locked the fellow in and then shot a bullet through the cupboard door."

A little cry broke from Lady Anne.

Toronto Man Cured of Intolerable Itch

Mr. J. E. Hooper, Toronto.

By Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment

"I just want to say a good word for Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Four or five years ago I was in Port Arthur, and I had an attack of the itch. It certainly was an intolerable nuisance. The itching was principally at nights before I went to bed. The thighs were especially affected."

"I went to two doctors about it, and tried more than one remedy. I was beginning to think the complaint was incurable, when I was telling my trouble to a barber, and he told me to take a hot bath, use Cuticura Soap, and then apply Cuticura Ointment. I took his advice, and, sure enough, the itch vanished. I had probably been troubled with the itch for two or three months before I tried Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and they completely cured me of that intolerable nuisance. After one warm bath with Cuticura Soap and use of the Cuticura Ointment, I was never troubled with the itching again. Anything in this testimonial I would be prepared to swear to in a court of law." (Signed) J. E. Hooper, 265 Parliament Street, Toronto, Jan. 10, 1911.

For more than a generation Cuticura Soap and Ointment have afforded the speediest, simplest and most economical treatment for skin and scalp humors. Sold by druggists and dealers everywhere. Harry, watching her, saw a look of terror flash into her eyes.

"Pray, don't be distressed," he quickly said. "Sammy was not killed."

"Was he hurt?" she asked faintly.

"Not too much hurt to cut the lock clean out and escape while the traveler went down to summon the landlord."

"Then he was not injured?"

"He must have been struck, for the man told me the dresses in the cupboard were stained with blood, although he declared he shot at a level above the thief's head, to frighten him."

"Cruel! Brutal!" she murmured. "And what was the end? Did he get safely away?"

"So the fellow told me. It was he who drove on here afterwards in your absence, and saw your French maid. He told me he was going to visit Loders Abbey. I said the place was not shown to visitors. But he laughed in an offensive way, and said he meant to get in."

"Did he tell you his name?"

"No. I had a little converse with him as possible, as I took a great prejudice against him."

"You are sure he saw no more of that poor idiot creature?"

"He certainly had not when he parted from me."

"What was the traveler like?"

"About thirty. Dressed very smartly, almost too smartly, and wearing a singular pin in the form of a note of interrogation in diamonds in his tie. I suppose he was good-looking. But to me he looked common. He asked constant questions. He was clean shaven and very dark; and, by the way, the lodgekeeper at Lyllyngton imagined that he was my brother. I did not take it as a compliment."

"Then he is like you?"

"I suppose so. But I hope not."

"She turned and looked at him steadily for a moment. There was no coquetry in her regard, only thoughtful attention."

"Who could the man have been?"

"There was something about his manner and movements which suggested to me a detective," Harry replied.

"She turned on him swiftly, anger and haughtiness in her face."

"How can you even suggest such a thing, to me of all people?" she asked, with those lightning flashes in her blue eyes of which Lisette had spoken.

"Years ago, my guardians were the unhappy parents of a criminal. For months they and I had our footsteps dogged by the police and by professional and amateur detectives and ghoul-like bands of excursionists tormented our every movement. Do you want to remind me of all that horrible time that you insult me by imagining that visitors here must necessarily be detectives?"

"She had risen as she spoke and stood before him, quivering in every limb, a tall, stately figure, with slender hands clasped, and a face as white as her dress. Harry rose also, and answered her in a voice that vibrated with feeling."

"Forgive me, Lady Anne," he said, "if I have hurt you by any clumsy speech. I would rather cut my tongue out than annoy you. And there is nothing you could tell me to do for you which I would not gladly undertake. Won't you believe me?"

"Her face softened. She bent her head gently, but without smiling."

"Americans are always chivalrous to women," she said. "I am troubled and nervous today. I hardly know what I am saying. That poor creature may be hidden somewhere, dangerously wounded."

"She suddenly put her hands to her face and turned sharply away, making a little gesture of the head as though to dismiss him."

"He longed to comfort her, but could only steal away and leave her, as always, alone, although with every nerve in his body he desired to soothe and to serve her."

"At the lodge gates little Edwin Jessop, recognizing him, ran out to greet him."

"The young man lifted him high in the air and caressed him affectionately, promising to bring him a 'nice new toy from London.'"

"Before the gates closed upon him, and while he was still talking to the child, he looked back toward the house."

"Under the archway out in the yew hedge, he saw Lady Anne stand, watching him with a set look, which he took for anger, in her eyes."

It is a Liver Pill—Many of the ailments that man has to contend with have their origin in a disordered liver, which is a delicate organ, peculiarly susceptible to the disturbances that come from irregular habits or lack of care in eating and drinking. This accounts for the great many liver regulators now pressed on the attention of sufferers. Of these there is none superior to Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. Their operation though gentle is effective, and the most delicate can use them.

Chinese Views of Millinery.

Speaking to a Chinese gentleman the other day an Englishman asked him if the Chinese ladies will emulate the men and go in for western headgear? In reply he beamed a smile most childlike and bland.

Pressed for something more definite, he remarked: "Did you not know that it is a well known fact among the Chinese that the reason so many European husbands look harassed and careworn and the further reason why so many of your young men refrain from marriage is this very question of millinery? Ladies' hats cost so much that they spell ruin and so we Chinese have told our women folk that we absolutely forbid them to follow western fashions in this regard, whatever they may do in other directions."—Pekin News.

DIXIE TOBACCO

PART THAT CANADA MAY TAKE IN PROTECTION OF THE EMPIRE

First Lord of the Admiralty Points Out the Opportunity of the Overseas Dominions in Matters of Naval Defence.

London.—Hon. Winston Churchill in a recent speech, said events have lately led up to the greater reduction of the fleet in home waters which meant a relative reduction in its mobility. "In this," Mr. Churchill continued, "is to be found the great opportunity, the great chance for the self-governing dominions, those strong young nations which have grown up all over the world under the shelter of the British flag and by the stimulus of its protection. They have begun to seize their opportunity already. We have seen the development in Australia, of a strong modern fleet unit. New Zealand has contributed a noble ship to the modern navy—in Canada men of all races and all parties are deeply stirred upon the problem of the share which the Dominion should take in the protection of the British Empire and the means by which it and all parts of the British Empire are to be kept free from harm.

"We are soon to receive representations," he continued, "of the new Canadian Administration who are coming here to consult with the admiralty upon the course of policy which is to be adopted in future. If the main naval developments of the last ten years have been the concentration of British fleets into decisive theatres it seems to me not unlikely that the main naval developments of the next ten years will be the growth of effective naval forces in the great dominions overseas, then I think we shall be able to make what I think will be found to be the true division of labor between the mother country and her daughter states, which is that we should maintain the sea supremacy against all comers at decisive points and they should guard and patrol all the rest of the British Empire.

"I am certainly not going to attempt to forecast or prescribe the exact form which those developments should take, though the march of opinion appears to be proceeding upon thoroughly practical lines. This however, I will venture to say, the Admiralty sees no reason why arrangements should not be made to give to the dominions across the seas a full measure of control over the movements in peace of any naval forces which with our help they may bring into efficient existence. In war we know our countrymen overseas will have only one wish and that is to encounter the enemy wherever the need and danger is most severe. The important thing is that gaps should be filled so that while we in the old country guard the decisive centre our comrades and brothers across the seas shall keep the flag flying on the oceans of the world."

GOVIN RETURNED TO POWER

Quebec Gives the Liberal Premier the Third Term in Office

Montreal.—The Quebec Provincial elections resulted in the return of the Gouin Government by practically the same majority which it had in the last house.

By the redistribution act, passed at the last session of the legislature, seven new seats were added, and while the opposition captured two of these it lost two others, thus making the gross gain in the Liberal majority in the new house seven.

The members of the cabinet were rejected, the only one to suffer defeat being the Hon. Charles Devlin in Temiskamingue. Mr. Devlin was, however, successful in Nicolet county.

Premier Gouin was elected by a large majority in both Port Neuf and St. John's.

Mr. Tellier, opposition leader, was reelected in Joliette, but two of his leading lieutenants, Armand Lavergne and Jules Provost, both of whom ran in two counties, suffered defeat in one. Mr. Lavergne winning in Montmagny and losing in Montmorency, and Mr. Provost suffering defeat in L'Assomption and winning in Terre Bonne.

But little interest was manifested in the elections, the indifference once amounting to apathy in the English districts of Montreal.

The Government appealed to the people on its good record, while the opposition charged it with extravagance, citing the erection of a $3,000,000 gaol and $600,000 technical school in Montreal as examples, and contended that the money could have been better spent in advancing the interests of primary education in the rural districts of the province.

Good roads also figured, the Government relying upon its programme and the opposition contending that the money could be spent to better advantage, alleging that the Government's policy tended to favor those roads which would be largely used by automobiles to the neglect of those which were of great value to the farmers.

Liberal Grant for Brandon Fair

Brandon, Man.—According to Mr. Watson Griffin, Brandon's newly appointed publicity commissioner, the added grant of $1,000 just voted by the council to the fair board should prove a splendid investment for the city. This makes a total of $6000 appropriated for the Brandon fair this year. Since the first of the year the commercial travellers association has increased its membership by about 24 per cent, and through their efforts a widespread publicity campaign in the interest of Brandon is being waged on both sides of the International boundary line. Brandon's summer fair grounds comprise about 83 acres; and many leading firms, both Canadian and foreign are listed among the prospective exhibitors. Since the signing of the new street railway franchise many large and small realty deals are being recorded at steadily advancing prices; and many inquiries are coming in from Canadian and British investors indicating a widespread interest in the future of the city. Brandon's population is now about 16,000.

Take Cue From Manitoba.

Regina.—A movement has been started among the old-timers in Saskatchewan to ask the Dominion Government for a grant of land to the original settlers, following out the precedent established in the case of Manitoba. A meeting was recently held at Moosomin, where the proposal was mooted. Old-timers' organizations throughout the west have been asked to take it up.

ON SASKATCHEWAN RIVER

Six-Foot Waterway to be Constructed from Prince Albert to Le Pas

Winnipeg.—Further investigations are to be made this season into the Saskatchewan river waterway.

Last year a survey party covered the route from Prince Albert to Le Pas and its report indicated the feasibility of constructing a six-foot waterway for grain barges between these points. This season attention will be paid to the section from Prince Albert to Edmonton. While the undertaking will be somewhat costly, it is stated that the development of water powers will largely compensate for the expenditure. The waterway is designed to aid materially in solving the grain transportation problem of the west.

Mme. Schumann-Heink in Winnipeg Soon.

Mme. Schumann-Heink, the world's greatest contralto, and most dearly beloved of the vocal stars, sings in Winnipeg at the Walker Theatre on Monday evening, May 27. This is without doubt the most important musical event of the current season in Winnipeg or the Canadian West, as this wonderful artiste not only stands first among favorites with the public but her voice and technique are so magnificent that to hear her give a recital is something for the student or music-lover to cherish as a lesson in vocal purity and musical expression.

Following a long season in America, Mme. Schumann-Heink departed last spring for the other side. In Beyreuth, Vienna, Berlin, Munich, Frankfurt, Dresden and Hamburg, this incomparable singer appeared again in some of the operatic roles she had sung before with her finished vocalism, art and dramatic impersonations, and the music critics united in a tribute that will not soon be forgotten. The people of Germany and Austria rose to Schumann-Heink upon her return to them with demonstrations that eclipsed all the exceptional ones that had gone before.

In early November this glorious singer returned to this side of the Atlantic and made her reappearance with the Boston Symphony Orchestra in Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Brooklyn, Providence and Boston. Soon afterward the distinguished contralto gave one of her song recitals in Carnegie Hall, New York, where the three thousand odd seats were too few to accommodate the host of admirers who desired to hear her sing. Since then she has been on concert tour extending to the Pacific Coast and everywhere she has created a furor. Her marvellous voice, which is of such an exceptionally big range and of such a beautiful velvety quality, has been the constant delight and wonder of her audiences. Never has she sung better and never has her art seemed to be absolutely finished and flawless.

At the Walker Theatre Mme. Schumann-Heink will render a particularly varied programme, including operatic arias, folk songs and ballads. The people of Winnipeg and the West are fortunate in having the opportunity of hearing such a superb and world-famed artist.

Legislative Council Has Rejected Compromise Loan Proposal of Earth's Six Greatest

Peking.—By practically a unanimous vote the legislative council in secret session last night rejected the compromise loan proposal of the bankers of the six powers.

The Assembly declared it would not agree with any form of foreign auditing of the government finances.

This rejection of the compromise agreed to by the cabinet results in a serious situation as the bankers decline to make any advances whatsoever, unless the principle of foreign auditing is agreed to.

The assembly proposes that in the event of bankers not receding from their position a heavy increase in taxes be made or an international loan be forced through.

Growing discontent is reported in the most important centres particularly in the south. All the provinces are making heavy demands for funds to pay the troops. Officials fear any efforts to enforce heavy taxation will endanger the existence of the Republic.

EXILED TO SIBERIA

Englishwoman Receives a Severe Sentence in Russian Court.

Warsaw.—It has now been ascertained that in addition to the sentence of four years' penal servitude imposed on Miss Malecka, the English woman recently found guilty of belonging to an illegal Polish Society, she has been condemned to exile for life in Siberia.

It is expected that the English newspapers will take up the matter with the foreign office at London.

The woman was arrested on July 14, 1911, on a charge of complicity in the plots of Polish revolutionaries.

The British Foreign office made representations to Russia at the time, but the Czar's government, while admitting that Miss Malecka's mother was English and her father was a Pole who had been naturalized in Great Britain, said he never received permission to change his naturalization, and therefore, under the English law, his naturalization was ineffective and his daughter was a Russian subject.

Trial by Jury Abolished.

Capetown.—A draft ordinance has been issued in Rhodesia abolishing trial by jury in the case of serious crimes committed by natives against Europeans or vice versa. The ordinance provides for the trial of such cases before a judge of the high court, assisted by assessors, the judge's decision being the judgment of the court.

THE MARKET REPORT

Weekly Grain Letter Supplied by Thompson, Sons & Co., Grain Merchants, Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, May 8.—The event of the week in the wheat markets has been the issuing of the May crop report of the Agricultural Department of the United States Government. As explained in our last week's review the May crop report gives an estimate of the condition of the growing winter wheat on May 1st, and the acreage which may have been abandoned owing to the amount of damage done by winter killing. By the beginning of this month it was well known from the investigation and reports of private crop experts, and from the crop reports of the agricultural officials of individual states, that the damage by winter killing to the wheat crop sown last fall, was abnormally large, but there is always a disposition on the part of everyone interested in such matters to look upon the Federal Government's report as the most impartial and decisive pronouncement on the situation. The report was issued yesterday from Washington at precisely 2.15 p. m., which coincides with 1.15 p. m. in Chicago and all other important western grain centres, whose markets close exactly at 1.15 p. m., so that the contents of the report cannot be known until markets have closed. After the report was out it was found in its figures rather different from general expectations, but in the deductions made from its figures the indicated probable yield was not greatly different from expert estimates previously published. General expectations had pointed to an abandoned acreage of from 5,000,000 to 6,000,000 acres and a condition of around 76, but the government report gave the indicated probable yield at harvest as

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

Lesson VIII.—Second Quarter, for May 26, 1912.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES

Text of the Lesson Matt. v. 33-37;
Jas. iii. 1-2; v. 12—Memory Verses,
34-36—Golden Text, Eph. iv. 25, R.
V.—Commentary Prepared by Rev.
D. M. Stearns.

The topic of today's lesson is "Truthfulness," but from the first and last Scripture selections it would seem to be a warning against swearing or taking the three passages, a lesson on the control of the tongue. The essential thing is a right relation to God, who is the God of truth (Isa. xiv. 16), whose throne is heaven. His footstool the earth and Jerusalem His special city, the city of the great King. That title makes us think of Mal. i. 12-24, where He complains of the deceit of His people in bringing Him offerings they would not bring to an earthly ruler, and he said, "I am a great King * * * and my name is dreadful among the nations." In Mal. ii. 1, 2, He said that there would be a curse if they did not lay it to heart to give glory to His name. Sometimes men are so honored by others that it is said of such a one, "That man's word is as good as his bond." How much more should the word of God suffice as the firmest possible foundation on which to rest. "Forever, O Lord, thy word is settled in heaven." "Hath He said and shall He not do it?" "The Lord of Hosts hath sworn, saying, Surely as I have thought so shall it come to pass, and as I have purposed so shall it stand" (Ps. cxix. 89; Num. xxiii. 19; Isa. xiv. 24). The more we meditate upon Him and upon such words concerning Him the more we shall become like Him in word and deed. Beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, we shall be changed into the same image from glory to glory as by the Spirit of the Lord (II. Cor. iii. 18), and thus be more manifestly children of our Father who is in heaven.

This cannot be till we have been born from above and have thus become children of God, standing before Him in His righteousness, as we learned last week. James in his epistle is as clear about the new birth and the manner of it as is Peter or Paul or our Lord Himself (Jas. i. 18, 22; I. Pet. i. 23; John iii.), but the Spirit through James lays special emphasis on the need of a manifestation of such words and works on the part of saved people that those who cannot read the heart, as God does, may see in daily life the reality of the faith that saves. If a company of believers are asked to repeat the verse beginning, "This is a faithful saying," it would be an almost unheard of occurrence for some one to ask, "Which, please?" but with one consent all would repeat I. Tim. i. 15, and not one in fifty or a hundred would think of Tit. iii. 8, for it seems to be almost an unknown saying, but it is so important. James' great point in chapter ii is that a mere word of mouth, a mere "say so," does not amount to anything necessarily; it must be a heart word, which will show itself in the life, for "with the heart man believeth unto righteousness, and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation" (Rom. x. 10). In our lesson he speaks of the power of the tongue for good or evil and uses as illustrations a great creature like a horse controlled and turned where the driver pleases by the bit in his mouth, and also a great ship guided by a very small helm. Even so the tongue, though a very small member of the body, can accomplish a great deal of good or evil, and while many kinds of creatures can be tamed, the tongue can no man tame or woman either. But there is one who can subdue and control it. It is not right that from the same mouth there should flow sweet water and bitter, and if the Lord Himself is the fountain in us it will not be so, and He can stop the other fountain from which the bitter comes. Salvation is wholly of God, whether it be the gift of eternal life or living out that life day by day. We are as utterly helpless in the one as in the other. He must do it all. It is ours to receive Him and be saved and then to let Him rule in us. As we yield fully to Him we find that He is able to subdue.

If Job, who is mentioned in connection with the last verse of our lesson could under very great trial reject his wife's proposal that he curse God and die (Job ii. 9), there is equal grace for every tried one, and God is able to make all grace abound toward us that we may have all sufficiency in all things (II. Cor. ix. 8). Our tongues will be used by God or the devil as we yield to one or the other, as in the case of Simon Peter (Matt. xvi. 16, 17, 22, 23). "He that keepeth his mouth keepeth his life." And "Whoso keepeth his mouth and his tongue keepeth his soul from troubles" (Prov. xiii. 3; xxi. 23). It is well to act often, according to Ps. xxxviii. 13, "I as a deaf man heard not, and I was as a dumb man that openeth not his mouth." It is well to pray always (Ps. xli. 14; xlii. 3). Self confidence we must always avoid, but when weak and consciously so we will find his grace sufficient. He will not fail those who rely upon Him.

Our Winnipeg market continues in a good, healthy condition. Navigation at Fort William and Port Arthur opened on the 3rd inst., and several million bushels of wheat which had been stored in vessels in the harbors cleared at once for the east. This week several million more bushels are going out of the elevators, and before many days a large decrease in the quantity in store will be seen. Large deliveries of May wheat through the option market were made the first days of the month without in any way disturbing the market. Today owing to the easiness in the United States markets after the issuing of the May crop report, our prices declined 3-4c to 1c, but the undertone continues strong and we look for a quick recovery in prices and a gradual advance to a higher level as the season advances. Today's cash prices are: No. 1 Nor., $1.04; 2 Nor., $1.01; 3 Nor., 96 3-4c; No. 4 wheat, 83 1-4c; No. 5, 77c; No. 6, 65 1-2c; feed, 59 1-2c; No. 2 Alberta Red Winter, 96c; No. 3 A. R., 95c; No. 4 A. R., 89 1-2c. Futures closed: May, 104 1-8; July, $1.05 3-8; October, $1.00.

Oats.—The oat market is very firm, especially for the July future and the feed grades. The May future is dull and quiet and July price is now above May. Today's cash prices are: No. 2 Canadian Western, 49c; 3 C. W., 41 1-2c; Ex. 1 Fd., 43 1-2c; 1 Fd., 43c; 2 Fd., 41 1-2c. Futures closed: May, 49 3-8c; July, 49 1-2c.

Barley.—The barley market is quiet again, and prices on higher grades off a little. Today's prices are: No. 3, 68c; No. 4, 65c; Rejected, 56c; Feed, 56c.

Flax.—The flax market is firm. Today's cash prices are: No. 1 N.W., $1.97; No. 1 Man., $1.93; Rejected, $1.80. Futures closed: May, $1.95; July, $1.96 1-2.

All prices quoted above are based on delivery in store Fort William and Port Arthur.

The Sad One.

The "Prodigal Son" was the subject of the Sunday school lesson. The teacher was dwelling on the character of the elder brother.

"But amidst all the rejoicing," said
 the teacher, "there was one to whom the preparation of the feast brought no joy, to whom the prodigal's return brought no happiness, only bitterness;
 one who did not approve of the feast and had no wish to attend it. Now who can tell me who this was?"

Silence for several moments, then a hand raised and a small sympathetic voice: "Please, ma'am, it was the fatted calf."

COMES FROM NOVA SCOTIA THIS TIME

ANOTHER SPLENDID CURE BY
 DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

R. Moulaison, whom two doctors treated, finds relief and permanent cure in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Surfette Island, Yarmouth Co., N.S.
 (Special)—Mr. Renie Moulaison a well known resident here, is telling his neighbors of his cure from a severe attack of Kidney Disease which kept him in a state of pain and suspense
 for two months and defied the efforts of two doctors who were treating him.

"My trouble started with a cold,"
 Mr. Moulaison says. "My muscles would cramp and I had backache and dizzy spells. My head ached and I had a tired, nervous feeling while specks of light flashed in front of my eyes."

"I suffered in this way for over two months and was treated by two doctors but they didn't seem to be able to do much for me. Then I started to take Dodd's Kidney Pills
 and they helped me almost at once.
 Six boxes cured me."

Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure the Kidneys. Cured Kidneys strain all the impurities out of the blood. That makes pure blood and good health.

The clergyman had come round to the Sunday school, and was examining the small boys.

"Can any of you tell me," said he,
 "what is the meaning of 'divers diseases'?"

Two small boys began comparing mental notes in an undertone. Presently one of them looked up.

"Please, sir, it's water on the brain."

In the causes of infant mortality
 cholera morbus figures frequently,
 and it may be said that complaints of the bowels are great destroyers of child life. If all mothers would avail themselves of so effective a remedy as Dr. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial many a little one could be saved. This cordial can be given with safety to the smallest child, as there is no injurious substance in it.

Lucan Nagy of Szegedin, Austria, sold his skin to a foreign museum a long time ago for £32, the condition being that after his death and when the skin was removed the museum authorities should bury his body. He has now died at the age of 85. On his deathbed he begged his relatives
 to get his contract broken.

It Will Prevent Ulcerated Throat—
 At the first symptoms of sore throat,
 which presages ulceration and inflammation, take a spoonful of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Add a little sugar to it to make it palatable. It will allay the irritation and prevent the ulceration and swelling that are so painful. Those who were periodically subject to quinsy have thus made themselves immune to attack.

Curious to Learn.

In Georgia they tell of a prisoner who had been convicted a dozen times of stealing, who, when placed at the bar for his latest offense, displayed
 a singular curiosity.

"Your Honor," said he, "I should like to have my case postponed for a week. My lawyer is sick."

"But," said the magistrate, "you were caught with your hand in this gentleman's pocket. What can your counsel say in your defence?"

"Exactly so. Your honor, that is what I am curious to know."—Green Bag.

Minard's Liniment used by Physicians.

Taking Every Precaution.

Mr. Lansbury's concern, as expressed in the British House of Commons, over the military drilling going on in the North of Ireland, reminds one of a story of how Ireland was occasionally taught to shoot in the past. The war office once sent a famous officer over to inspect the militia regiments, and the officer, after inspecting, asked for a few words with the drill sergeant.

"These men of yours," he said,
 "could not hit a target as big as the Tower of London. You can't have taken much pains to teach them."

"Tache them to shoot," gasped the sergeant. "Of course I did not tache
 them to shoot, yer honor; for, bedad,
 if I did there wouldn't be a landlord
 left in Munster."

The Slayer of Miaco.

One of the most peculiar cases ever brought to the attention of the court of first instance recently came to light in Pangasinan province.

Pedro Rabaira, with two others, was accused of the murder of Bernabe Laco, and on being brought to trial
 the first pleaded guilty, there being an aggravating circumstance of treachery, and was sentenced to twenty years in Bilibid.

Now it comes to light that the deceased was Miaco, an outlaw, who deserted from the constabulary some time ago, taking with him various arms and accoutrements, and who engaged in outlawry since that time.
 There was a reward of 500 pesos out
 for his capture, dead or alive.

The question now is, should the prisoner serve his term for killing a fellow citizen, or should he be liberated and given a reward for killing an enemy to society?—Manila Weekly Times.

Eat What You Like

 Not Eat Too Much.

Digestion Will Be Good if You Regulate the System With

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

Overeating is the great cause of liver troubles, biliousness and constipation. The digestive system becomes clogged with poisonous waste matter, the liver fails and then follow kidney disorders of the most painful
 nature, such as rheumatism,
 Bright's disease and dropsy.

The beginning is almost invariably with the liver and should be overcome by the prompt use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills before serious disease is developed.

An occasional dose of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills when the liver gets sluggish and the bowels constipated
 will keep the whole digestive system
 in healthy working order.

Hundreds of thousands of people have found this out by their own experience and would not think of being without this medicine in the house. Others have been restored to health by this treatment after their cases had reached more serious and complicated stages.

There does not seem to be any medicine obtainable which is so successful in awakening the action of both liver and kidneys as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Merit alone can account for their enormous sales.

MIXED FARMING—THE FARMING THAT PAYS

The writer, years ago, when conversing with Mr. S. A. Bedford, late superintendent of the Brandon Experimental Farm, was told by that gentleman that he had known of many farmers who had failed as wheat growers, but he had never known of one farmer to fail who honestly practiced mixed farming. Mr. Bedford spoke the truth. Never was there a sterner lesson given than the western farmers have gotten this year. They staked their all on one crop—wheat and other grain—and that crop though large was not a success.
 The result, as we all know, has been losses by bad harvest weather causing damp and wet grain, losses caused by the farmers flooding the market
 through making a mad rush to sell it.
 The results we also see: notes overdue at the banks, storekeepers' accounts unsettled, machinery unpaid
 for, wholesale and manufacturing firms dunning for the money due them
 by the western farmers.

To use a trite saying, "our farmers put all their eggs in one basket, the basket fell, the eggs were smashed,
 and all that were left was the fragments to pay for a year's work. How different would it have been had the farmers had the revenue from their dairy cattle and their hogs to fall back upon. He would then have been able to pay his way, and be able to bear the loss on one item of his income, so long as others were profitable. There is no room for disputing the fact that what is known as "mixed farming" is good farming, safe

 farming and profitable farming.

Look abroad and see how the farmers who pay a yearly rent of from $5 to $15 an acre make farming pay.
 It is not by confining themselves to growing crops of grain. That is their smallest source of revenue. The making of butter and cheese; the raising and fattening of hogs, sheep and cattle for the butcher; the breeding of horses; the growing of roots and vegetables for market, all contribute to the British farmers' bank account and enable him to pay high rents to his landlord. Here, in this northwestern Canada, the land is fertile. The farmers have no rents to pay. But when bad seasons come, as come they will,
 the single crop on which the farmers wholly depend, is a failure, and the majority of them are brought to the brink of ruin. Diversified farming would remedy all this.

Now, we will give a brief glance
 at Ontario, and see what mixed farming has done for that province. Fifty years ago, grain growing had resulted in impoverishing the land to such an extent that in large districts it would not grow anything to yield a profit. The dairy industry has worked wonders in improving these conditions. For instance, look at the county of Oxford. The land is now fertile and will grow anything. Good large brick barns, comfortable and large brick and stone homes have replaced the ramshackle, dilapidated log buildings, and there is an air of comfort and prosperity on every farm. At Woodstock and Ingersoll, markets are held every week at which are to be seen cheese buyers from all parts of the province, and even from Britain.

 The quality of the cheese is equal to any in the world and commands the highest prices. In other parts of that province the result has been equally satisfactory.

The factory system prevails, mostly in Ontario, but there are a great many private dairies which are very profitable, though the farms are small,
 few of them exceeding one hundred acres. For example, the writer knows of farms of that size where twenty to twenty-five milk cows are kept and the milk is made into cheese and butter and sold in the local markets.
 The dairies are operated on the most improved principles, a member of the family thoroughly learning the business in one of the many nearby cheese factories. All these farms give a good profit to their owners. Their handsome homes and the well-dressed and good-looking sons and daughters of the house, as they go to church on Sundays in their double-seated buggies, bear unmistakable testimony
 to the success of mixed farming.

Are the Fly and Mosquito Dangerous?

The fly, with spongy feet, collects the invisible germs of diseases, spreads them over our food and poisons us with typhoid and cholera. The mosquito with its bite injects into our veins malaria and yellow fever. The bacteria of consumption, or grip, are everywhere present for us to breathe into our lungs. The blood which flows through our veins and arteries is our protection. It should contain healthy red and white blood corpuscles—capable of warding off these disease germs. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a blood medicine and alternative made entirely without alcohol, a pure glyceric extract of bloodroot, golden seal, Oregon grape root, Queen's root, mandrake and stone root, which has enjoyed a good reputation for over forty years. The refreshing influence of this extract is like Nature's influence—the blood is bathed in the tonic which gives life to the blood—the vital fires of the body burn brighter and their increased activity consumes the tissue rubbish which has accumulated during the winter.

"About forty years ago while in Newark, New Jersey, I had chills and fever," writes Mr. MICHAEL MAGUIRE, of National Military Home, Kans. "I went to Kansas City and in the spring of 1877 the chills and fever returned. Doctors and everything I tried failed to do me good.
 Finally I saw Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery advertised. I took one bottle of it and the chills vanished. In about a year afterward
 I felt them coming back so I got another bottle and have never had any symptoms of fever or ague since. That is all of twenty years ago, for I had the chills about twelve years before I started to take 'Golden Medical Discovery.'"

M. MAGUIRE, Esq. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are for liver ills.
